Start here: How to use this schedule

- This UDL version reorganizes the original schedule into weekly chunks with clear action lists.
- Course expectations, points, and core due items are retained from the source schedule.
- Review each week row for module topics and due work.
- Items marked [INSTRUCTOR CONFIRM] should be confirmed before publishing.

Quick policies retained from source

- Late work is not accepted.
- All in-class activities (ICAs) and the final exam are due at the end of class and ICAs cannot be made up.
- Assignments, discussion boards, programming projects, and quizzes are due the day listed unless otherwise specified.
- [INSTRUCTOR CONFIRM] Source includes conflicting default due-time wording (5:00 PM on one page, 11:59 PM MT on another page).

Key milestone dates

- Last day to drop: 02-Sep-26
- Last day to withdraw: 12-Nov-26
- No class: Labor Day (07-Sep-26)
- No classes: Thanksgiving week note (23-Nov-26 to 29-Nov-26 row)

Student action checklist

- Review this schedule at the start of each week.
- Track quiz, PP, ICA, and project points in a personal checklist or calendar.
- Submit all out-of-class work before the course default due time used by your instructor.
- Attend class to complete ICAs and the in-class final exam.
- Ask for clarification early when module labels or due-item wording are unclear.

Instructor review required before distribution

- Confirm default due time policy wording where source pages conflict.
- Confirm week 3/4 ordering details from visual layout in original PDF.
- Confirm exact holiday/no-class wording used institutionally.
- Confirm any additional notes that were only visually encoded in the original layout.
